71 DJ killer

It is a sad fact that, nowadays, pop music on the radio is accompanied by the voice of a DJ who, not content with simply introducing records, feels obliged to astound the listener with his wit, pass on the latest traffic and weather news, recite recipes and endless lists of dedications and a host of other items totally unrelated to the music. The circuit given here, which is designed to 'kill' the sound of the DJ's voice between records, should prove a boon to those listeners who are only interested in the music. It is possible to distinguish speech
